In the world of design, first impressions are everything ... and The Interior doesn't disappoint. The luxury retail destination and interior design business has been wowing Dallas-area trade professionals and homeowners for more than 20 years. "What started with interior design and fine furniture, has now expanded to include luxury home renovations and home staging services," president Mark Lafferty says. "We offer the finest selection of upscale home furnishings to help stage your project with furniture appropriate for the home." When renovating, The Interior delivers as well, providing everything from painting, flooring, millwork, kitchen countertops and tile, to outdoor landscaping, and beyond. Whether designing, renovating or staging, The Interior works with clients' visions and goals to understand, serve and make them happy ... and ultimately, to give them more than what they ever envisioned.
